

HMRI LABORATORY INDUCTION QUIZ

1. Have you read the HMRI Laboratory Safety Manual? Yes /No
2. Have you read the AS/NZS 2243.3:2010 Microbiological safety and containment?
Yes /No
3. Have you read the OGTR Guidelines for Certification of a Physical Containment Level 2 Laboratory
Yes /No
4. Have you completed the University of Newcastle Online Laboratory Safety Module?
Yes /No
5. Do you agree to abide by HMRI's policy of wearing a lab gown whenever in a laboratory area?
Yes /No
6. Which of the following are true for an SDS?
 - a. Must be less than 5 years old
 - b. Needs to be obtained prior to using the chemical
 - c. Is not needed for low or moderate risk chemicals
7. Which of the following is TRUE for Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs)
 - a. An SOP must be in place before starting any procedure
 - b. An SOP does not need to include a risk assessment
 - c. An SOP is not needed when setting up a new procedure
8. When performing a risk assessment, which is the preferred form of risk management
 - a. Substitution – substitute the hazard with another of lower risk
 - b. Use PPE
9. Select the INCORRECT statement. When working alone in the laboratory after hours you:
 - a. Don't need to inform anyone that you are there
 - b. Must have approval from your supervisor
 - c. Must inform Security
10. The phone extension for Security in the HMRI Building is
 - a. 20007
 - b. 25888
11. Pilot projects can be conducted before Safety Approval is given by the University
True /False

12. In regards to use of the Goods Lift, select the CORRECT statement
- a. Materials do not need to be double-contained
 - b. No laboratory gloves or gowns are to be worn in the Goods Lift
 - c. Food and drinks for human consumption can be transported in the Goods Lift
13. Bulk quantities of chemicals and stock supplies are stored:
- a. In the under-bench Dangerous Goods cabinets in the lab
 - b. In the Dangerous Goods Store Rooms
14. Domestic refrigerators must NOT be used to store flammable materials
True /False
15. Special training is required for the use of gas cylinders True /False
16. Biosafety cabinets offer protection from chemical hazards True /False
17. ALL work with genetically modified organisms must be approved by the Institutional Biosafety Committee True /False
18. A specific induction into the HMRI Bioresources Facility is required for persons working with animals in the HMRI Facility True /False
19. Glass pipettes, needles and scalpel blades must be disposed of in:
- a. General Waste
 - b. Chemical Waste
 - c. Sharps Bins
20. Purple waste bags/ containers are used for disposal of:
- a. General Waste
 - b. Cytotoxic Waste
 - c. Infectious / Genetically Modified Waste
21. Spills (including chemical and biological spills) must always be:
- a. Cleaned up by whomever finds the spill
 - b. Assessed for level of risk
 - c. Responded by evacuating the building
 - d. All of above

Name..... (please print)

Student or Staff Number.....

Employer.....

Supervisor's Name..... Date completed.....